WASHINGTON, June 10.—The bureau of air commerce today announced that the airplane which crashed killing eight persons near Delavan (Ill.) was an army ship.

The air bureau said advice from Chicago established that the doomed craft was a Martin bomber, B-10 type.

The war department, however, still was unable to definitely learn whether the ship was an army plane.

PA NEW OBSERVES

With the trout season not so fruitful of results these days many fishermen are now angling for catfish in the Shenandoah river here and near Pulaski.

WPA-city paving projects on Friendship and Hove streets, have been completed, and East Reynolds street, from Scotto street to Pollock avenue, is almost finished. The streets look fine.

Euclid avenue cartway has been excavated between North Mercer and Albert streets. Curbs have also been set between these two streets. The steam shovel has been moved to Highland avenue where it will dig toward Albert street. It was reported at the city engineer's office.

City Engineer Glenn R. Throop stated today that on June 15 a steam shovel will be used to excavate on Glenmore boulevard, 300 feet west to North Mercer street. Glenmore boulevard is the first D program thoroughfare which will be paved, hence the plan to move the steam shovel there.

Euclid avenue-North Mercer street sewer has been completed from the Shenandoah river east to a point within 500 feet of Wilmington avenue. It was reported today at the city engineer's department. It is a city-WPA project.

School teachers today not only ended their duties for several months but also received their pay—the last they will receive until they resume work in September. Approximately $67,000 will be paid to the school teachers. Treasurer C. C. McKibben reported.

Pa. News noted two automobile license plates from distant points here today. One was from the state of Washington, pale green letters on a white background; and one from the state of Alabama which was purplest red color on a blue background. The latter color combination was one of the oddest Pa. News has seen in some time.

British In Conference On Steps To Be Taken To Protect Shipping

By KINGSBURY SMITH

(Copyright, 1938)

LONDON, June 10.—A special meeting of leading members of Britain's army, navy and air force high commands was summoned today to consider effective measures to protect British ships from further attacks in Spanish waters.

International News Service

learned the meeting was called as a result of the failure of the admirality and foreign office to agree on adoption of protective measures which previously had been under consideration, all of which are now considered impractical.

Purpose of today's meeting, it was revealed, is to have the British fighting forces draft suggestions which will be submitted to a meeting of the cabinet ministers, headed by Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, Monday morning.

Killing of two British citizens, Edward Jones, a Spanish non-intervention observer, and ship's agent

Bullock when an insurgent plane bombed the French vessel Brisbane in Denia Harbor was believed partially responsible for the British decision to decide on a line of practical, drastic action.

Authorities here believe a deliberate policy of "social piracy" is being waged in the Mediterranean, and they are determined to put an end to the bombing and sinking of British ships.

Seven Nurses Get Diplomas

Commencement Exercises
Of Jameson Memorial Hospital Class Take Place

LARGE CROWD
AT EXERCISES

Seven nurses, members of the graduating class of the Jameson
Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, received their diplomas and nurses' pins, at the annual commencement exercises in the First Christian church Thursday evening.
Attired in their immaculate nurses uniforms, the members of the class, accompanied by fellow nurses and students from the hospital, presented a sweet and charming appearance, as they marched to the place reserved for them in the center section of the church auditorium.

Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, presided and gave the invocation and benediction.
Organ selections preceding the entry of the nurses and during the recep-tional were played by Kathryn Nesbitt Allen.

Dr. Bennett introduced Dr. John
J. McIlvaine, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who gave the address to the graduating class.

History Of Nursing
Dr. McIlvaine traced the history of medicine and nursing from Hippocrates, the great Greek physician who lived from 460 to 370 B. C. and who originated the Hippocratic oath for physicians which to this day is a code of ethics for the medical profession down to the present day.

Nursing did not become an occupation for women until the Christian era.

Where Body Of Cash Boy Was Found

Two members of the posse that sought kidnaped James Cash, Jr., point out the spot where the body of the 5-year-old boy was found, half a mile from his home in Princeton, Florida. Franklin Pierce McCall, 21-year-old truck driver, was held by G-men who asserted he admitted writing the ransom notes and collecting the $10,000, but that he had nothing to do with the actual abduction or murder.

Probe Cape May Murder Of Woman

Wealthy Man Is Questioned

Body Of Slain Woman Is Found In His Home Last Night

CAPE MAY, N. J., June 10.—Valuable protesting his innocence, Millard Garrison, 62, member of one of Cape May's oldest families and reputedly wealthy, was questioned today in connection with the slaying of Hannah Bateman, 35, whose nude body was found in Garrison's home at nearby Goshen.

State troopers, acting on a "tip" from Garrison that he had missed a "needless murder," found Miss Bateman's body in a rooming house in an upstairs bedroom of Garrison's home.

Hysterical and incoherent, Garrison first appeared at the home of his sister, Mrs. Hattie Douglas, and told her of the "needless murder." He was taken before Sheriff William Powell for questioning while state troopers were dispatched to his home where the victim's body was found.

Authorities said Garrison maintained his innocence of any connection in the slaying, although he admitted he had carried his shotgun two miles into a nearby woods and there buried it.

Probe of the killing centered about a drinking party at the Garrison home in which a male relative of Miss Bateman and an unidentified woman, in addition to the slain victim and Garrison, allegedly participated.

FLORIDA PLANS SPEEDY JUSTICE IN KIDNAP CASE

The identities of any other persons held for questioning. From other sources it was reliably learned, however, that two are in custody at the F. B. I. offices here where the lights burned throughout the night.

The very fact the Hoover stated McCall confessed to only a part in the plot was taken as a proof that the case is still unfinished. The only loose ends were nagging, however, were in Hoover's comment: "We have a party to the kidnapping. The F. B. I. is continuing the investigation."

McCall in Seclusion
McCall was being kept in seclusion pending the placing of an actual charge against him. A crowd of hundreds milled around the skyscraper headquarters of the F. B. I. until late at night but it was a curious rather than an angry throng.

The G-Men, however, were taking no chances of letting sentiment crystallize by letting the people get a glimpse of McCall. Lunch threats have been muttered since the 5-year-old Cash boy was snatched in pajamas from his bed now nearly two weeks ago.

Prosecutor Worley planned to present the evidence against McCall to a specially impaneled grand jury on Monday regardless of any further developments or implication of accomplices.

The fact that the federal department had surrendered jurisdiction to Florida justice was taken to indicate that either McCall had acted alone or that his confederates were local people and that the Federal Lindbergh law could not be invoked.

While the punishment of the offender or offenders occupied law officers, the more tragic phase of the case was nearing an end also at the Cash home in Princeton, twenty-five miles south of here.

Plan Boy's Funeral
There funeral arrangements were completed for the tiny curly haired victim, whose body was so badly decomposed when found early yesterday that the grief-stricken parents could not bring themselves to look upon it.

The anguished father choked with emotion and was able to do no more than an identifying nod when shown a strip of the white and pink striped pajamas the boy was wearing.

In a sealed coffin the body will probably be buried in the next day or so after a private funeral attended only by relatives.

Mrs. Cash, the 31-year-old mother, has been virtually in a state of collapse since the third day after her only son's disappearance.

The finding of the body that destroyed the last vestige of hope plus the confession of McCall proved a doubly hard blow. The culprit had been a close acquaintance of the Cash household and had taken a solicited interest in the hunt for the boy.

McCall and the wife he married two years ago had twice been a tenant in the Cash apartment building during tomato picking season when he drove a truck in the fields and had moved from the Cash place to a cottage in the vicinity less than two months ago.

He was known and well-liked by most of the 600 residents of Princeton, but most shocking to the Cash family was his past friendship for the playful "Skeegie" as Jimmy was affectionately known. The two were frequently seen romping together.

May Have Been Kidnaped
This very fact, authorities said, indicated that McCall might have been the actual kidnaper. Jimmy was fearful of strangers and would hardly have allowed himself to be carried away without crying out unless in the hands of someone he knew, they pointed out. It was unlikely he had been knocked unconscious or killed in the bedroom since no bloodstains were found.

McCall's close relationship with the Cash family really led to his undoing, Sheriff D. C. Coleman revealed. The sheriff had questioned McCall early in the investigation but released him.

McCall took an active part in the kidnap hunt and was helpful in offering suggestions. He, in fact, pointed out to the father the third ransom note tossed on the rear porch in a crumpled ball. He told the sheriff he had seen M. F. Braxton, a Princeton carpenter, nearby a short time before.

Braxton was held for nearly a week, but released when he convinced investigators he was blameless. They picked up McCall again "Strange," he said, "I don't see how it could have been anyone else who slipped it under the door."

That was the first tip off. The note had not been slipped under the door and by the time McCall got down explaining his mistake his inquisitors felt sure they were on the right track.

tion era, when the teachings of Christ gave women more freedom and opened a place for them in social service work. Dr. McVain stated.

It was not until the time of Florence Nightingale, however, that women really came into their own in the nursing profession and she is referred to as the founder of modern nursing. Clara Barton, the great Red Cross nurse, was another who aided in elevating the nursing profession to the high standard it now attains, and whose life story is one of heroic and unselfish accomplishment.

In conclusion, Dr. McVain urged the members of the class to be tactful, sympathetic and kind to their patients and to live up to the high motives of their profession.

Rentz Gives Diplomas
Mrs. Julia Kemp Hrdina, director of the school of nursing then presented the members of the class, and as each graduate was given her diploma by Fred L. Rentz, president of the board of directors of the hospital, Mrs. Hrdina presented her with her nurses' pin, emblematic of her profession. She outlined the steps through which the nurses go in order to receive their diploma.

The members of the class then recited the Florence Nightingale oath similar to the Hippocratic oath of the physician.

Mrs. Rentz, in closing the exercises, extended the congratulations of the board of directors, and wished the members of the class the utmost success in their life work.

Before pronouncing the benediction, Dr. G. S. Bennett, paid tribute to the unselfish devotion and service which has been rendered the hospital by Fred L. Rentz, president of the hospital board, Dr. Bennett stated that he has given a life of service to the hospital, and occupies a place which will be most difficult to fill when he retires from such activity.

After the graduation exercises, the nurses were taken back to the Nurses' Home, where an informal reception was held.

The large auditorium of the church was comfortably filled by friends of the class and hospital, a tribute to those entering this noble profession.

Those in the class were:
Anna Mary Alexander, 122 North Crawford avenue; Josephine Mary Biedka, 502 Electric street; Anna Belle Cifra, R. D. 1, Edenburg; Anna Marie Fleming, R. D. 1, Kennett Square; Betty LaRue Hibben, 2415 Sixth avenue, Beaver Falls; Glennia Mae Lowry, 505 Wayne avenue, Elkwood City; Helen Florence VanGorder, 390 Berry street, Baden.

down the coast and through the Panama Canal. He will re-enter the country at some Florida or Gulf port, visiting Georgia and South Carolina enroute back to Washington.

Trip In September
A later trip, beginning in September is also in the making. Mr. Roosevelt has an engagement at Port Huron, Mich., in September and the present plans are to make this, too, a rather ambitious swing, taking in Pennsylvania, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and perhaps Minnesota.

Ostensibly, of course, there is no politics embraced in these swings. The White House solemnly promises each year during his presidency, Mr. Roosevelt has made extended trips about the country to have, as he himself puts it, a "look-see" into conditions away from Washington. But the fact that this is campaign year, and that the New Deal is out to reward its friends and to checkmate its opponents lends a particular aspect to the contemplated journeys.

on other regions of the Teruel-Mediteranean front were hurried back.

New Complications
New international complications were injected into the Spanish Civil war when British-owned warehouses were considerably damaged by six bombs in the course of a new insurgent air raid on Gandia.

A Spanish two-masted schooner was sunk in Gandia harbor, but no casualties were reported.

Late last night the government-held port of Valencia was raided. Details of this attack were not immediately available.

Reports from the Spanish government capital of Barcelona, said eight insurgent planes were shot down during a terrific air battle over the Teruel-Mediteranean front between 41 government and 33 insurgent planes.

Insurgent sources said 10 government aircraft were lost in this fight.

cent minimum only if compliance to the act would cause unemployment. As the bill now stands, exemptions would be granted after consideration had been given to the cost of living, comparative cost of transportation, prevailing wage rates, unemployment, tariffs, and economic factors pertaining to certain geographical sections of an industry.

If successful in obtaining the additional concessions, leaders of the southern bloc said they would not oppose the wage stoppage system, which calls for a 25 cent minimum the first year, 30 the second, and 40 in five years.

The boards would have authority to recommend increases between the 30 and 40 cent scale at the beginning of the second year of the act whenever "economically feasible."

BOY UP TREE HITS LIVE WIRE
Int. 232 North Cascade street; Tony Masola, 1123 Beatty street, and John Lemer, 406 North Cascade street, spread the alarm. Painters at work nearby, brought a ladder.

The boy was lowered to the ground through efforts of the boys and painter. Lemer, who was taught the prone pressure respiration system while a Boy Scout, applied it. Bonafilio was soon restored to consciousness. An ambulance was secured and the youth was rushed to the New Castle hospital.

In the meanwhile an alarm sent to fire and police caused Third ward firemen and Policemen Goils and Herman Richards to respond. However, the boy already had been started for the hospital when they arrived.

OTHER MEN'S BRAINS

ALMOST anything but a wrist watch might be an acceptable graduation present for the University of Kansas senior who helped work his way through college by writing theses for fellow collegians. That would be too poignant a reminder that he will not be permitted, albeit of high academic rating, to wear on a watch chain the "flat brass key" of the Phi Beta Kappa honor society. Character plus scholarship is a criterion for membership, and so, though he is repentant, the society's bars are up for him.

The moral in this episode, which has received wide currency, is plain enough. Just as a youth who gives aid in a college examination is equally culpable with its recipient, so one who does actual work for which another receives credit in regular course also is guilty. The practice is common enough, but "ghost writing" has an altogether different connotation amid academic shades than in some outside fields of endeavor. Formal education, from its definition, is a leading or drawing out. It is thwarted in its chief objective when the student passes off as his own the work of another. In cheating his instructors he sells himself cheaply at the threshold of life.

Of late years "ghost writing" has become almost a profession; certainly it is a large-scale business. Often it is freely acknowledged when a trained writer whips into mellifluous or forceful English, as the case may be, the ideas of Mankiller, Twofist or Lerona Smashracquet "as told to Jack Smoothquill." More frequently it is not. Many a national lawmaker, for example, has been known to commission his hard-worked secretary, or even Charlie Michelson, to "throw together" a few enumerated ideas for a bang-up speech in the halls of Congress. It is not of record that one ever beat his breast in the course of its delivery and proclaimed that this line of hot stuff was prepared by the young man he brought with him from Milk Corners.

Candor compels the admission that "ghost writing" has its legitimate uses, particularly in the lives of busy men. Frequently, and over many generations, the practice has found place in the White House. There have been numerous Presidents who did not scorn assistance in preparation of their public papers. Grover Cleveland did not write "Public office is a public trust." In at least one instance the great Washington sought and utilized help.

From down the ages come the words: "The voice is Jacob's voice, but the hands are the hands of Esau." But the storied impersonation of one of Isaac's heirs by another has no rightful place in the heritage of American academic life.

WE'RE NOT DIFFERENT

It has truly been said that to the thoughtful man all history must be open to doubt, after he has listened to a couple of eye-witnesses to the same incident, testifying in a traffic court. We may think of this confusion of evidence as peculiarly American, but there is no reason why we should. The honest mistakes of the unobservant were probably an issue in the first proceeding ever conducted in a court.

Asked by an interviewer to describe his day's work, the Lord Chief Justice of England put it in a sentence: "Investigating collisions between self-propelled vehicles, each on its own side of the road, each sounding its horn, and each stationary."

POSTERITY PAYS THE COSTS OF WAR

A bill introduced in Congress would increase the pension of Mrs. Buena Vista McGannon to $100 a month, much larger than the usual allowance for descendants of American war veterans. Mrs. McGannon's father fought in the War of 1812. She is 88 years old.

That war ended in 1814. Naturally, very few soldiers were engaged, compared with the number that took part in subsequent conflicts. Yet there are two other pensioners of the War of 1812 on the rolls.

Tremendous as is the cost of fighting a war, it is small by comparison with the expense afterwards. One hundred years from now a large number of pensioners of the World War, descendants of soldiers, will be drawing allowances from the government if precedent is followed.

In the practical sense nobody ever wins a war. Everybody loses. If the toll of tragedies and wrecked lives isn't a sufficient object lesson, perhaps the nations will some day wake up to the fact that even from the materialistic viewpoint war never pays.

WHEN A MAN FALLS FOR A WOMAN

Since 38,500 persons were fatally injured last year by accidents in the home it is proper to inquire who is to blame. A large insurance company, which goes in for figure breakdowns in an attempt to reduce physical breakdowns, says that when men come home of evenings they are more clumsy around the house than are women who have been there all day. This doesn't refer merely to kitchens, where it's a brass man who claims to be other than excess baggage, but includes climbing ladders, walking down stairs, mending balcony railings, renewing electric fuses and strolling along the edge of high porches. More men than women get bumped off, literally, in such mishaps, says the report, and here the argument starts.

There is only one mitigating factor stressed in the survey which implies that women have mastered "the art of safe living at home." It is conceded that many of the men who gave their lives trying to put up curtain rods, rescue Junior's kite from a tree, prune the rhododendron bush, repair the garage roof, clean out the rainspout or climb through a window when locked out were simply attempting tasks beyond their abilities and should have known better. Women, it is gallantly contended, are more familiar with their limitations; they play safe and stay safe. Do they? Anyway, it is relevant to remark that a man doesn't dare confess to any limitations when he is trying to please her.

Another thing that reveals your age is the percentage of weather you consider awful.

Still, America is helping all of the mistreated nations which would help America.

The Parent Problem

SELF-GOVERNMENT AT SCHOOL

In the course of a year I get into several hundred school buildings and many times more classrooms at various places. More and more I am impressed with the apparent ease with which order in the halls, assembly room and classrooms usually is maintained. To an onlooker, there appears to be very little authority exercised by the teacher. Indeed, much of the routine of passing in and out of classes, even in putting on an assembly program, is supervised by the children themselves—excellent training in good citizenship. Of course the teacher, as a rule, does employ more authority than is apparent. She has worked out skillful methods of control.

In policing the halls during periods between classes the high school student serving as monitor seems also to be effective. Seeing a student offend a rule or custom of the school, this monitor will remind the offender and try to dissuade him from the wrongdoing and usually with good results. Failing, however, the monitor will probably induce another student to try to bring the recalcitrant into line. Rarely is higher authority appealed to in such instances.

But in the elementary grades it is different, because the child there is different. He seems to have an itch for tattling. Assigned as a monitor about the grounds or building, he is not inclined to trust to persuasion and to pleas of, "You know we don't do that here," or "If you do that you will get us all into trouble." Rather, he will make a beeline to the office to report the offender, or will with a glow of pleasure write down his name.

Many parents write or ask me about the practice in many schools of having a "monitor" selected by the class or teacher to observe during her absence from the room all offenders and to report them to her on her return. These parents are distressed over this practice, and they have a right to be. Bad psychology is involved.

Better Way
A far better way is for the teacher to cultivate such an atmosphere in her classroom that each child will choose to manage himself well in her absence. Every now and then slip into a classroom with no teacher present and no child in charge, but all orderly and diligent about their business. I came upon such a class the other day.

"Who manages you while the teacher is out?" I asked.
"Nobody does; we have self-government here; each one governs himself. We call it being good citizens," a child replied. Wouldn't it be fine if all classes had self-government of this sort? If enough classes could be cultivated in self-control in the elementary grades, there could be more study halls with self-control and order in the junior and senior high school. Good self-government presupposes more self-control by each student and less machinery and fewer bosses from the group or outside it.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

UNFAIR LAWS

Invalidation of Minnesota's so-called unfair trade practice act was hailed recently by leaders of women's organizations and clubs throughout the country as a decisive victory for the consumer, and as having a substantial bearing on the fate of similar legislation in many other states.

The measure held unconstitutional by a federal statutory court in Minneapolis, would have required all types of food stores under one ownership to charge the same prices to the public, regardless of differences in operating costs and carry or self-service stores and those maintaining charge accounts or delivery systems.

"The decision is a great victory for the consumer, especially the poorer ones who should be permitted by law and common sense to shop wherever they can find bargains," says Mrs. Otto Hahn, of New York, who is president of the Home-makers' Forum. "If a firm is able, because of lower overhead, to pass that benefit on to the consumer in the form of lower prices, it should be permitted to do so. I consider laws which prevent this tyrannical and un-American. They smack of European totalitarianism. I believe there should be freedom in trade as well as for the individual and I hope that similar laws in other states will be wiped off the statute books."

The opinion that "all laws fixing the prices of consumer's goods are detrimental to the American standard of living," is expressed by another woman, prominent in the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs. "I believe that all prices should be based primarily on cost and overhead, and any statute which violates that principle is necessarily injurious to the consumer," she said. "I am happy to hear that the Minnesota law was invalidated and I hope other laws of that nature meet the same fate."

Laws should protect the buying power of the consumer and not reduce it. Any statute which arbitrarily fixes prices and wipes out the benefits the buyer receives from the normal process of competition is unfair to the great consuming public and has no place on American statute books.

Iowa's Primary Result Viewed
Republicans Poll Most Votes
China Is Not Well OrganizedBy CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Iowa's recent primary result is being acclaimed by anti-New Deal Democrats as a victory for their political group, but the situation is not quite as simple as that.

Representative Otha D. Wearin seeking the Democratic senatorial nomination, presumably with the New Deal's blessing, was, indeed, badly beaten by Senator Guy M. Gillette, who was renominated under circumstances which implied that the New Deal opposed him. As a matter of fact, except on the supreme court issue, Wearin and Gillette's congressional records have been much the same on the New Deal. But let that pass; assume that Gillette's victory was, as anti-New Dealers contend, a triumph for their bunch.

On the opposite hand, ex-Senator L. J. Dickinson, attempting to return to Washington as a Republican, was nominated in a primary which gave nearly twice as many Republican as Democratic votes.

WHO WINS

The suggestion is rather strong that, though Gillette beat Wearin in June, Dickinson will beat Gillette in November.

I am prepared to believe that many anti-New Deal Democrats in Iowa and elsewhere prefer Republicans to pro-New Deal Democrats. Which makes it seem all the more likely that the Hawkeye commonwealth, historically normally Republican, is about to swing back to the G. O. P. column.

If so, which side wins? Republicans? Or a coalition of Republicans and anti-New Deal Democrats?

The Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

(Copyright, 1938)

An Issue Is Presented

Washington, June 10. THE LATE NIGHT sessions of the Senate last week and the vast volume of the debate in that body made it impossible for the newspapers adequately to convey the significance of the various votes upon the numerous amendments offered—but not adopted to the bill carrying the largest relief appropriation yet made.

PERHAPS THE BEST idea can be given by noting the four principal proposals which were rejected under the leadership of Senator Barkley, supported by the President. While at least one of these amendments came from a friendly source, the White House pressure was exerted against them all, and they were beaten because the President wanted them beaten. That, in fact, was the only conceivable reason for voting against them. No plausible excuse for opposing was ever presented. On the contrary, the defense of the Administration leaders was lame, stained and shame-faced. It was really a remarkable performance and it would be vastly educational if people generally could read the debate on these four propositions as contained in the Congressional Record. That, of course, is impossible, but it is worth while briefly to present the facts about these rejected amendments, because a good deal will be heard about them before the November elections.

FIRST, THERE was the Hatch amendment, the purpose of which was to prevent relief funds from being used for political purposes. It was simply provided for the dismissal of any official connected with the administration of relief money found to be using his position to influence an election. Senator Hatch is a New Deal friend of the President, but entirely aside from that one certainly would have the right to expect support for that kind of proposal from the President. In fact, unless the purpose is to play politics with money provided to relieve human need it is difficult to conceive of a sound reason for withholding support. Support, however, was not only withheld, but the amendment killed by White House votes.

SECOND, THERE was the amendment of Senator Lodge, which sought to prevent favoritism and discrimination in the allotment of relief funds to the several States. Mr. Lodge's proposal was to have the money distributed in proportion to the number of unemployed, as shown by the Social Security figures and other statistical agencies. The idea was to give the distribution a definite relation to the amount of unemployment, and thus prevent a Senator with big political pull getting a larger slice for his State than justified by the number of jobless.

THIRD, THERE was the Holt amendment, which merely proposed by extending the merit system to the non-policy-forming officials of the WPA and PWA, to carry out a definite pledge in the 1936 Democratic platform. This amendment was not only in accord with the platform pledge but in accord with the letter written by Mr. Roosevelt to Vice-President Garner on June 2, 1937. Yet the President's friends overhauled it. And finally there was the Austin amendment, which would have made it unlawful for any person whose compensation comes from relief funds to solicit or authorize to be solicited any contribution to any political party from relief workers.

IT SEEMS a little hard to invent a convincing reason for opposing any one of these four amendments. By killing them all, Mr. Roosevelt (Continued On Page Five)

I have been domesticated. Trained at last to stand or go. Let the simple truth be stated. Every warning sign I know. Let her eyebrow be lifted. From the danger line I flee. And the conversation shifted. Where she thinks it ought to be.

In the days when first we married. Like a head-strong colt I seemed. At disaster's source I tarried. Until Nellie fairly screamed. Though I had the wit to win her. Off my stock would downward fall. When I asked some friend to dinner. That she couldn't stand at all.

There were times that she was sad. And the foolish things I'd say. And I know that she was maddened. By my blundering, careless way. Now at last, as I review it. I am broken to restraint. But it took her years to do it. And the patience of a saint.

Flag Day Will Be Observed At Valley Forge

Founder Of Flag Day Association Promotes Program Observing Flag Week

URGES CITIZENS TO RENEW FAITH

WILLIAM T. KERR

In connection with the national observance of Flag Day on June 14, the 161st birthday of Old Glory, William T. Kerr of Philadelphia, founder of the American Flag Day association and national president of the association since 1898, urges Americans to let this coming Flag Day and Flag Week from June 12 to June 18, be a clarion call to all real Americans for unswerving loyalty to their flag and the government for which it stands.

For nearly 50 years, the American Flag Day association has led in promoting the patriotic celebration of Flag Day. As has been customary, on Sunday afternoon, June 12, opening National Flag Week, nationwide recognition of the anniversary of "Old Glory's" birthday a patriotic program will take place in Washington Memorial chapel at Valley Forge.

Participating in the program will be Rev. John R. Hart, rector of the chapel, and brief addresses by Harry R. Leary, state president of the Patriotic Order Sons of America; John C. Hensley, Wallingford, Pa., and a reading by Miss Marthaella Anderson of Ursinus college. Music will be furnished by the Washington Memorial chapel choir and the choir of the Yeaton Presbyterian church.

Mr. Kerr says "The stars and stripes is the standard of every true American, native or foreign born, those of every race, color and creed. Fly it on Flag Day as your protest against those who would substitute the Red Flag of Anarchy or other emblems used by traitorous Americans or aliens within our midst, who would, if they could, supplant "Old Glory" and our American institutions with their atheism, communism and other hostile aims, and destroy all that has made us a great nation. Let this Flag Day and all of Flag week be a clarion call to all real Americans to show unswerving loyalty to their flag and country. Make this a consecration in patriotic service to God and country."

AROUND CITY HALL

Cy Horner, former chief of police and a man who served in several capacities during his long career on the city police department is now cottaging along the Slippery Rock.

James Rae, city and county sealer of weights and inspector of measures, today said that each quart of strawberries should weight one pound and one half. He also said he had inspected gasoline measures in the Seventh ward and found that some pumps gave more than the quantity ordered.

There was no session of city council in the city building yesterday. Joseph D. Alexander is in attendance at the Sewage Plant. Operators association convention at State College. James L. Fink was in Altoona and William H. Dunlap was out of town.

Two chaps from out of town, Charles Owens and Charles Flanagan, who became intoxicated here and landed in the hands of the law were ordered from the city by Mayor Charles E. McGrath in police court yesterday. Raymond Baldwin, who was arrested for speeding paid a fine of $10.00, police records show.

and the New Deal clearly are on record—

First, in favor of keeping politics in relief.
Second, against fair distribution of the money to the States according to their unemployment needs.
Third, against relieving WPA and PWA jobholders from fear of dismissal for political reasons.
Fourth, against the protection of men on the relief rolls from assessments for political purposes by agents of political committees.

When it is considered that no lower form of electioneering has ever been known than that with relief funds, this is about as dreadful an indictment as could be made by any administration. Yet, if there is any other interpretation to put upon the rejection of these four amendments it would be interesting to hear it. Certainly none was offered. If it can be gotten home to them, the record as it stands ought to stir people pretty deeply.

PROBABLY it means an increased number of anti-New Dealers in the next Congress. The opposition is certainly presented with an issue in June which should keep the New Deal on the defensive not only through the November elections but through 1940. Administration politicians frankly count upon the weight of these unrestricted expenditures to offset the unfavorable reaction. It is, of course, impossible to know now whether the money will outweigh the resentment, but at least the facts ought to end the mockery of the New Deal pretense of purity.

Sabbath School Veterans Honored At Convention; Officers Named For Year

Lawrence County Sabbath School association is very proud of its "Fifty Year Veterans," and Thursday afternoon at the convention in Highland United Presbyterian church two of those fifty year veterans, Mrs. Sadie Waddington Tillman, the oldest, and E. C. Hulbert, the youngest, were guests of honor and addressed the delegation briefly.

Mrs. Tillman attended her first county convention at the Hillsville Baptist church (not now in existence) on May 28, 1873.

That was 65 years ago. It was the 20th convention of the Lawrence County Sabbath School association. The convention closing tonight is the 100th.

Mrs. Tillman was not quite 15 years old when she attended that convention 65 years ago, and was probably the youngest Sabbath school teacher there.

Romance Involved
Perhaps one reason that the events of the day are so well remembered by her is that a little romance was connected with the occasion. A young man asked her parents if he might accompany Sadie to the convention. They considered and gave their consent. The young man later became the young Sabbath school teacher's husband.

Mrs. Tillman is very active, in spite of her advanced years, and gave, yesterday afternoon, one of the best addresses of the convention. She expressed herself well, spoke in an interesting, informal manner, and left a number of noble thoughts for the delegates to deliberate upon.

H. L. Marvin, New Castle district president, who presided throughout the afternoon, made mention of the fact, as did Mrs. Tillman, that Mrs. John S. Martin had also been present at that convention 65 years ago, and while she is not a fifty-year veteran, she has long taken a great interest in the conventions and the work of the association.

Memorial Service
Dr. C. H. Heaton, pastor of the First Baptist church, conducted an impressive memorial service in tribute to the memory of "three stalwart Christian men who rendered distinguished service in the cause of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, as that cause is represented by the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, and who have within the past year gone to be with the Lord."

Dr. Heaton named the deceased members as follows:

"David M. Marshall, funeral director of Wampum, Pa., one-time president of the county association, and for many years a most loyal and faithful vice president of the same, a business man who was never too busy in his private affairs to devote his time to the interests of this association, whose ears were always at the disposal of our officers and workers, and whose memory lingers like a sweet benediction with us today."

"John P. Lockhart, attorney at law, of New Castle, Pa., member of the finance committee of this association, teacher of an adult Bible class, valiant servant of the Lord and distinguished Christian layman."

"David S. Williams, retired mill worker of New Castle, Pa., for many years a member of the executive committee of this association and constantly active in all efforts and state conventions, so gifted and so versatile that he could be called upon at any time for an address, a vocal solo, or an assignment as song leader and he would cheerfully respond to the pleasure and the profit of all, for more than 50 years a Bible teacher and a general favorite with all Sabbath school workers, both young and old."

Treasurer's Report
In the absence of the treasurer, his report was read by President Strickler. In regard to this report, State Secretary Walter E. Myers arose and volunteered the opinion that:

"You do more for the money you have than any other Sabbath school group in the state."

Mrs. A. J. Holman, of Pittsburgh, who had addressed the convention during the morning on "Better Prepared Spiritual Teachers," enlarged upon that theme Thursday afternoon in a second instructive address on "The Need For More Religious Teaching."

Mrs. Holman deplored the fact that Bible is today just three per cent of the curriculum in the public schools, whereas it was one hundred per cent before 1776. She said:

"The state took over education and religion was taken out."

The speaker was strongly in favor of week day religious education.

"I hope in every county the day will come when there will be week day religious education in the Protestant church," she declared.

John Owens led the delegation in singing.

Hulbert Speaks
"Lawrence county's youngest fifty year veteran," E. C. Hulbert, was then introduced, and gave a few remarks. He said he had begun his Sabbath school teaching career at Marietta, O., a little over fifty years ago and had been at it ever since. "I consider it a great privilege. I have enjoyed every day of it," Mr. Hulbert said with feeling, "and I hope that I may continue the work every day I live."

State Secretary Walter Myers from Philadelphia, gave the final address of the afternoon. His subject was "Leadership Characteristics."

"On trouble with Christian leaders of today is that they do not have the stamp of Christian leadership upon them. Christian characteristics should be so unmistakably defined that they are recognized by any one instantly. We should carry the stamp of His divinity in our very personalities," Mr. Myers said in part.

The rest of the afternoon was devoted to conference and instruction periods, with Mr. Myers, Mrs. A. J. Holcomb, Rev. A. M. Stevenson and Rev. Chester T. R. Yeates as speakers and leaders. Rev. R. E. Douglass presided over the Christian education conference and instruction period; Mrs. A. B. Street, children's division; Miss Marjorie Streeter, young people's, and Mrs. Mary A. Balph, home and extension department.

At 6 o'clock ladies of the Naomi Circle of the convention church, served dinner. Special music was furnished by young people of the Ellwood district.

Awards Made At Convention

Winners In Sabbath School Attendance Contest Recently Are Recognized

COUNTY OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED

Close to 500 persons, the greater part of whom were teachers, officers and superintendents, were in the Highland United Presbyterian church for the Thursday night session of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association convention. The convocation, which has been in progress since Thursday morning, will be brought to a close at an impressive service tonight.

Last night's program was an attractive one and included installation of the new county and district officers by State Secretary Walter E. Myers, Robert M. Strickler, Jr., is serving again as the county president, and H. L. Marvin is once more president of the New Castle District. The complete list of officers appears elsewhere in this issue.

Music Is Feature

A special treat was the half-hour program of music furnished by the Brahms Ladies Chorus of New Castle. Included was a trio selection by the Misses Virginia Roberts, Josephine Jenkins and Cecelia Haselick, also solo by Miss Roberts and Miss Margaretta Hess. The chorus is not only fortunate in having David W. Rees as director, but in having Mrs. John M. Evans, a talented pianist, as accompanist.

Earlier in the evening, at the banquet served in the church dining room by the Naomii Circle, David Aiken of Ellwood City, accompanied by Robert Stevenson, had scored quite a triumph with several vocal solos. The convention has been memorable for its splendid music. John Owens has been leading the congregational singing; Mrs. Jay L. Reed is the convention organist and Mrs. S. Glenn McCracken is the convention pianist.

Installation of officers took place after the names were read by Mrs. H. F. Magill, county secretary, and Mr. Marvin, district president. Afterwards, Mrs. S. J. Callahan, of the First Baptist church, presented a group of young women from her teachers training class in a splendid demonstration of the work being done.

Presents Awards

County President Strickler then presented awards to the Sabbath Schools of the city and county who made the best attendance records during the recent increase campaign. Handsome plaques were presented to representatives of the following Sabbath Schools:

First Methodist Episcopal, Second United Presbyterian, St. Paul's Lutheran, Mahoningtown Presbyterian, First Christian of Ellwood City, East Brook Methodist Episcopal and the First Baptist. The Baptist banner was for best attendance in the Diamond Jubilee Bible Course.

The evening was concluded by a splendid address on "Power To Be Come" by State Secretary Myers, and a sketch entitled "Colonial Pioneers of Christianity" by Rev. Luther MacDonald, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, assisted by members from his congregation. Benediction was given by Rev. C. H. Hagadorn, Mahoning M. E. minister.

According to reports Mrs. Clayton was at 1814 West Division street early this morning. "Luther Beverly" is said to be a lodger there. Mrs. Clayton told police her sister, whose name was not given in the police report, and "Beverly" were in an argument and she went to her sister's aid and was stabbed by "Beverly."

Police Cruiser Officers U. G. Harper and Harry Plimmer responded to the call, conveyed the woman to the hospital, then searched for "Beverly" who is yet missing.

The Supreme Test Of Service

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Mark 14:36—"Not what I will, but what thou wilt."

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for June 12 is Mark 14:36, the Golden Text being Mark 14:36. "Not what I will, but what thou wilt.")

THE GREATEST chance Almighty God ever took was that by which he endowed mankind with free moral agency, including freedom of will to choose to do or not to do the will of God. The first Adam, in his hour of trial in the Garden of Eden, followed the policy. "Not thy will, but mine be done." In the Garden of Gethsemane, as in every other hour of trial, followed the policy expressed in his prayer, "Not my will, but thine be done."

"Watch And Pray"
Gethsemane was a favorite place of prayer to our Lord. Judas had gone there often with his Master and knew just where to find him when the hour of betrayal came. Jesus realized most keenly his own need of spiritual preparation for the impending hour of trial. He earnestly desired that his disciples should want to prepare themselves for it by prayer. "My soul is exceedingly sorrowful even unto death: abide ye here and watch... watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation; the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak." And he said, Abba, Father, all things are possible unto thee: remove this cup from me: howbeit not what I will, but what thou wilt. St. Luke, the physician, adds in his account that, "being in an agony, he prayed more earnestly; and his sweat became as it were great drops of blood falling down upon the ground."

The disciples failed utterly to meet their Master's test of their willingness to serve him by watching with him during his hour of trial in Gethsemane. Three times he returned to them from his praying and "found them sleeping." Luke adds that they were "sleeping for sorrow." But as they slept Jesus prayed on and on, concerning "the cup of sorrow he was about to drink. What was this "cup" for the removal of which our Lord prayed so earnestly and insistently in Gethsemane? If it was just the physical death of the cross, then Jesus faced death with far less fortitude than an innumerable company of martyrs. Physical death was only the shadow of that gains which he prayed "with strong crying and tears" and bloody sweat. The real substance was spiritual death. This being the larger part of "the wages of sin" it could not pass from him. It was this that he was drinking to the bitter dregs as he cried out of the darkness from the cross. "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?" It was as he emptied this spiritual cup that he "became a curse for us" and "was made sin for us that we might be made the righteousness of God in him." This was the "soul exceeding sorrowful, even unto death" in Gethsemane.

The Betrayer's Kiss
The cowardice of the arresting mob reveals itself in the numbers that came against him in their weapons and in the treacherous sign of the betrayer's kiss. The disciples' failure at this testing time revealed itself in Peter's rash act in welding his sword and inflicting a wound which Jesus healed in his very last recorded miracle of healing. How often we, like Peter, have kept our Lord busy healing wounds inflicted through rashness and failure to watch and pray!

Babson Cites Unusual Labor Organization Plan In California

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1938 Publishers Financial Bureau)

CHICAGO, Ill., June 10.—The present tactics of the A. F. of L. and the CIO are deplorable. While there are many causes for the present business depression, one of the biggest is the labor controversy. The actions of labor leaders are hurting business badly and are doing permanent injury to their own members. I do not understand what these leaders are expecting to accomplish by their current "strategy."

It is unimportant to form new labor troubles and issue strike orders at this time. Moreover, with millions of Americans out of jobs and eager to work, it seems ridiculous from labor's own standpoint.

Of course, labor troubles are much less in number today than they were a year ago. At that time conditions were almost hopeless. Until recently the sharp drop in business had made labor leaders watch their step more closely. Later, however, the "big show" to revive interest in waning memberships have stirred up more rows. The automobile, the tire, and the shipping industries have been plagued by new outbreaks. At the same time, building, railroad and steel workers have held wages at their unreasonable peaks of a year ago. As a result, unions are hurting business and are ruining themselves in the eyes of public opinion.

Not Degrading Principle.
In attacking union leadership, I am not degrading the principle of collective bargaining. All practical business leaders and professional people are solidly behind this principle. Employees must be protected in their right to discuss their work, their hours and their pay with their employers without fear of losing their jobs. The truth is, however, that the labor union movement in America is turning into a racket. For that reason many employees who would like to belong to a union hesitate to do so. They do not want to become identified with either of the major unions. They are afraid to join these unions and be bossed and shoved around. They do not want to give up their rights to personal liberty and to free speech. They do, however, want the protection that collective action should give them. In many concerns throughout the country there have been very bitter campaigns on the following question: Should the employees form their own independent union should they join up with one of the two existing unions?

Unique California Action.
The most interesting case of this kind is that of the Pacific Gas & Electric company. After the Wagner Act had been upheld by the Supreme Court last year, the employees of this company decided that they should form their own independent union before they fell into the clutches of outside unions. Both the CIO and the A. F. of L. made strong drives to force the new group into one or the other of the existing unions. A secret ballot election was ordered by the National Labor Relations board. The employees voted by a wide majority to keep their union independent.

I cite this case because the independent union was organized on a far different basis than most company and trade unions. For instance, this union was incorporated under the laws of California as a non-profit organization. It is, therefore, legally responsible to carry out any agreement it makes. Incorporation of unions has long been regarded by employers as essential to industrial peace. It, however, has been fought tooth-and-nail by union leaders because the financial affairs of corporations must be kept open to public inspection. Hence, acceptance of such responsibility by the P. G. & E. workers is a milestone in labor organization.

There are no labor bosses connected with this California union. It is run entirely by the employee members and an attorney of their own choosing. There are no salaried officers, no initiation fees, no special assessments, no political contributions. Dues are 50 cents a month compared with $1 to as high as $5 a month in the CIO and A. F. of L. The union is organized by the employees, for the benefit of themselves, the public and their company. "Front office" interference is not tolerated. It is an ideal arrangement. This union is an example to any other group of employees who want the benefits of organization but who are afraid to become entangled up with the policies of the CIO or A. F. of L.

Other companies have recently followed the example of the Pacific Gas & Electric employees. My fervent hope is that this independent type of union will become more common in the United States. When it does, the day of the labor racketeer and gangster will be over and a big obstacle to prosperity will be removed. At a recent nation-wide conference of purchasing agents, the question was asked: "What do you think is the major problem facing business today?" The answer was the necessity of amending the Wagner Labor Act in order to end this current period of labor fear.

Yet, despite the unfairness of the Wagner Act, I believe that it is a tremendous forward step in the social progress of the United States. Give us a congress with some guts and the needed amendments can quickly be put into the law. Through these amendments, employers and capital can be given equal protection with labor. For years labor was at the mercy of employers. Now employers are at the mercy of labor. Put these amendments into effect and each will get a square deal. When that time comes we can see the end of the unnecessary and destructive labor wars which have created great hardships to labor, forced employers into bankruptcy, and increased the cost of living for everyone.

Girl Scout Work Will Be Explained

More Troops Are To Be Organized In Fall; Brownie Work To Be Resumed

Plans for the expansion of Girl Scout work were discussed by the Girl Scout Council this week at the final business meeting of the summer.

Most of the work during the past winter has been concentrated upon stabilization of the troops and provision of adequate leadership. A short time ago council engaged Miss Helen MacLean as a full time director, and under her leadership a program of expansion will be launched in the fall. New troops to accommodate the waiting lists will be organized. Brownie work, for girls from 7 to 10 years old, will be resumed. There will be training courses for Brownie and other troop leaders. Beginning on the 20th of this month there will be a training course for new council and committee members. Plans are progressing nicely for day camp which will be conducted July 11 to 15 and July 18 to 25 at Cascade park, and for permanent camp which follows, August 7 to 21. At the present time there are 21 Girl Scout troops in this community and an enrollment of nearly 500 girls.

Picnic Committee To Meet Saturday

Plans for Annual Tinworkers Frolic To Be Furthered Saturday Night

Plans for the Tin Mill Day picnic which is planned for the last Saturday in June, the 25th, will be furthered Saturday night, June 11 when a meeting of the committee and all others interested will be held in the Sherango Lodge, Local No. 1215, in the T. O. C. P. headquarters on East Washington street. The meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock.

Dinner Is Served In Stable At Dr. Taylor's Farm Near Pulaski

For the past 25 years or at least for many of those years, the Milk Commission of New Castle has made an annual trip to the dairy farm of Dr. Frederick Taylor of Pulaski township. Ostensibly the trip is for the purpose of inspecting the dairy herd, talking over some of the deeper problems concerning the vitamins in milk, the legumes in the feed, and the butterfat content from Holsteins as compared to Jerseys.

After attending some of them, including the one of Thursday, June 9, we're about to expose the whole thing. Our observation is that the milk commission goes out to the Taylor farm for the chicken dinner that is served. After wrapping yourself around one of the Taylor chicken dinners you are far more concerned with a place to lie down and snooze than you are in discussing vitamins.

Served in Cow Stable
The trip on Thursday was much like those of other years, albeit more enjoyable if such a thing is possible. The dinner this year was served in the cow stables and as the guests sat there disposing of what was once a proud Rhode Island Red hen, one of the Holsteins was put into the milking rack and the automatic milking device demonstrated to the guests.

After the dinner the guests inspected the barns, saw the huge herd of cattle and heard how carefully they were groomed. Only the best in food is served the cows. Alfalfa, clover, some timothy, a little Sudan grass, wheat and corn and on this is sprinkled a concentrate which provides the rich Vitamin D in the milk.

Comments Dr. Taylor
As the commission sat at dinner the chairman, Dr. W. A. Womer, said, "I long ago gave up the idea of making speeches. But as we sit here today and my mind goes back to the first time we organized the milk commission, I cannot help but express my own appreciation and that of the commission for the fine job Dr. Frederick Taylor has done. He has proven that the finest kind of milk can be produced under spotless surroundings in a business like manner."

"It isn't the milk commission nor the doctors that have brought the quality of milk to its present state. It is the work of such men as Dr. Taylor who for 25 years has labored incessantly to produce safe, pure milk."

With two exceptions the entire commission was present. Those present were Dr. W. A. Womer, chairman; Dr. Eliah Kaplan, Dr. E. U. Snyder, Dr. J. C. B. Douthett and Dr. L. W. Grossman.

Our own observations were that if the Taylors ever decide to get out of the milk business there's a fortune awaiting them in the chicken dinner industry.

Question Booklets Are Sent Here Under State Police Guard

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 10.—Question booklets for public assistance department examinations June 11 and 13 were forwarded today to Erie, DuBois, and New Castle, as closely guarded by state troopers as a shipment of Uncle Sam's gold bullion.

Hugh F. Dolan, Jr., secretary of the employment board supervising the examinations, disclosed that Pennsylvania motor police have maintained a 24-hour guard over the questions since they were given to the state printer a week ago.

Troopers will remain in charge of the completed question booklets until the morning of the examinations, Dolan explained, and when the quiz sessions are over will convey them back to the employment board.

Motor policemen will supervise destruction of all material relating to the examinations when the printing is completed. Dolan added. Each question booklet is separately sealed before being placed in packages which are also sealed, ready for delivery.

U. S. supreme court justices appointed since 1932 have to pay federal income tax on their salaries.

Installs Device To Save Labor

Barn Cleaner Has Been Installed At Pulaski Dairy Barn

Every day in various cities or rural sections, someone gets an idea which is aided by the ideas of others and before long a new plan to save labor goes into practice.

At least, this was found true yesterday when a News reporter visited the dairy barn of Dr. Frederick Taylor, Pulaski, and found he had installed a barn-gutter cleaner—the first in Pennsylvania.

In fact, it is operating so efficiently that work formerly requiring the services of two men for 90 minutes is now being done without any lifting, in not more than 25 minutes.

The dairy barn is 120 feet long and is built to house 58 dairy cows. There were 45 being milked by machinery yesterday. In their rear is a trough for manure and it is in this connection the labor device operates.

Some time ago Dr. Taylor read in "Electricity on the Farm" of the idea, put into execution by a western inventor.

He communicated with Howard F. Gross, Pennsylvania Power company, and between them the idea was developed and put into practice—with considerable labor now being saved.

It is likely that many dairymen in Pennsylvania will follow the barn cleaning system installed by Dr. Taylor, which is said to be the first of its kind operating in Pennsylvania.

Roosevelt Will Not Intervene At Jersey City

WASHINGTON, June 10—President Roosevelt, it was learned authoritatively today, has denied the request of Rep. Jerry O'Connell (D-Montana) that Mr. Roosevelt intervene personally against the activities of Mayor Frank Hague, of Jersey City, N. J.

Struck By Auto; Not Badly Hurt

The president made his position known to the Montana member in a white house conference at which O'Connell protested against the alleged suppression of free speech and liberties by the Jersey storm center.

Will Circulate Petition In Ward

Residents Want East Cherry Street Section Paved Between Railroads

Under the supervision of the Seventh Ward Civic club a petition asking for the paving of East Cherry street, between the Pennsylvania railroad tracks and the bridge over the Shenango river, will be circulated within a few days to the district residents.

This short strip of street, but a few thousand feet in length is the only portion of East Cherry street now unpaved. The condition is always very rough, members of the club point out, and a great deal of traffic is routed over this street and up the hill to the West Pittsburgh road.

A committee from the Civic club has been named to present their request to the city council. Another committee was named for the purpose of seeing state officials in hopes that they might take over this strip of road, connecting two state highways.

MAGHI CLUB SATURDAY
Members of the Maghi club will meet in the home of Miss Dorotha Hackett, Madison avenue, Saturday evening, for a regular meeting.

MRS. PAUL BENDER ENTERTAINS GROUP

Members of the M. E. G. Auxiliary of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, were delightfully entertained Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Paul Bender, Maple street, when they gathered for a regular meeting.

Route Markers Are Painted In Ward

All of the route markers along the Seventh Ward streets have been given a fresh coat of paint.

The highway department workmen first paint all of the signs white. They then go over them with black paint and mark the letters and the borders.

A short time ago all caution, curve, and side road signs along the highways in the district were painted a soft yellow color. The purpose for this change from white and black to the yellow and black is undoubtedly to lessen the glare caused by motorists lights.

CCC EDUCATION
HARRISBURG—Education and practical work abilities have been given to more than 1,750,000 young men by the CCC, Dr. Lester K. Ade, superintendent of Public Instruction, said today. He stated that more than 65,000 illiterates have been taught to read and write and more than 400,000 enrollees have left the CCC camps to accept private jobs prior to completing their terms of enrollment. Maybe it doesn't prove anything, but you'll notice that orators have most influence in backward regions and where the people are addled by worry or excitement.

President Wants Deportation Bill Passed By Senate

Measure That Would Deport Undesirable Aliens, Was Passed By House

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 10.—President Roosevelt has told Senate leaders that he wants the Dies house deportation bill passed by Congress before adjournment.

The measure passed the house last year and has been on the senate calendar since.

Makes Known Views
President Roosevelt made known his views in a letter to Senate Majority Leader Barkley it became known today.

The measure introduced by Rep. Dies (D) of Texas, would authorize the deportation of all aliens convicted of crimes, particularly smugglers, peddlers of narcotics and aliens convicted of carrying concealed weapons.

Both the American Federation of Labor and the Committee for Industrial Organization have approved the legislation, as well as other organizations, Dies stated.

The Dies measure would:

1.—Give the secretary of labor discretionary power to permit about 8,000 aliens who entered the United States illegally to remain in the country. Supporters of this clause said that while the aliens are in the country illegally many of them entered under a misapprehension of the law and have become good citizens. To deport them, they said, would break up their families.

2.—Generally strengthen existing deportation laws and authorize the deportation of violators of state narcotics laws and give field supervisors of the immigration service power to issue deportation warrants against undesirable aliens without routing the case to Washington for such procedure.

Revenue Receipts For State Reach Highest Record

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, June 10.—Revenue receipts during the fiscal year ended May 31 reached $52,253,149.75, the highest in the state's history, State Treasurer F. Clair Ross revealed today, with the state ending the year with a cash balance of $3,917,010.78.

Handing down his annual report of the state's fiscal activities for the past year, Ross revealed relief disbursements went about $30,000,000 over budget estimates, leaving but $40,087,469 balance for the next fiscal year ending May 31, 1939. The total amount available at the beginning of the last fiscal year was $153,139,111, stated Ross, including both federal and state funds, and of this amount $104,031,641 was spent during the year.

Slayer Returned To Syracuse, N. Y., Will Stand Trial

(International News Service)
SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 10.—Lawrence Gough, confessed slayer of pretty Laura Krenrich, Syracuse beauty parlor operator, was behind the bars of the Onondaga county jail today, under double guard, awaiting arraignment on a first degree murder charge.

Gough reached Syracuse last night by plane from Paducah, Ky. He surrendered to police there last Thursday.

Two thousand people were at the airport, including Gough's father when the plane landed here. The father greeted his son with a kiss. Faced with a full confession made to District Attorney McWhinney, it is indicated that his defense will be insanity. The trial will start here June 20.

Jail Nine In Strike Disorder At Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh's Ten Day Truck Strike Is Believed Nearing Settlement

(Associated Press Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 10.—Two outbreaks of violence involving the jailing of nine men after two others were beaten and the firing of a truck were reported today as Pittsburgh's 10-day strike of inter-state truck drivers neared a possible settlement.

A tentative pact providing a pay increase and submission of disputes to arbitration was reached early today, forbidding possible conclusion to the walkout which has hampered freight trucking throughout western Pennsylvania.

Nine men, all claiming to be members of Local 249 of the Teamsters' union, according to Chief of Police John Vehter of Wilkins township, were jailed on charges of disorderly conduct after two men had been attacked.

The police chief reported the men surrounded an automobile, forced its occupants—Steve Bernachi and George Ciekzak—to alight and then beat them up near Nolte's Shop in Wilkins township. It is believed the men were mistaken for truck drivers.

Truck Is Burned

A truck enroute to Pittsburgh from San Antonio, Tex., was set afire near the national carloading freight docks at Eleventh street and Penn avenue, while a group of eight men held the driver, Stanley Martin, of San Antonio, helpless. A fireman was burned while extinguishing the blaze.

The tentative peace pact, granting a five-cents-an-hour pay boost and guaranteeing a week's vacation, was to be submitted to another conference of representatives today.

The accord was reached after the Chamber of Commerce intervened to help mediate the dispute.

Yesterday, owners and operators filed an injunction suit in federal court, asking $150,000 damages from the union for stopping their freight deliveries.

Red Sox Down Indians Again

Jimmy Foxx Belts 18th Homer As Sox Cut Lead Of Cleveland Indians

PIRATES TRIM

BOSTON 5 TO 3

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 10.—The late Miller Huggins remarked once in the long ago that it was just as hard to break a team of winners as it was to snap one out of a long losing complex.

The little manager of the then all-conquering Yankees attributed much of the team's success to the fact that they never learned how to lose and any time they were beaten it was their own bad play and not the other team's good play that beat them.

Sox Beat Indies.
The Red Sox pulled the pace-setting Indians back another notch yesterday when Lefty Grove, aided no little by Jimmy Foxx's 18th homer and another by Ben Chapman, beat them, 5-0. Incidentally, the aged southpaw became the first pitcher in the majors to win ten games this season.

Foxx has driven in 68 runs in 44 games or about as many as Bill Terry of the Giants used to drive in even when he was hitting around 340. And his 18 homers for 44 games would mean 63 for the year if he could maintain that pace or three more than Babe Ruth's record.

The Yanks finally turned on their tormentors, the White Sox, and beat them 5 to 3, largely by virtue of Dickey's homer with one aboard.

The Senators pounded a trio of those alleged Browns pitchers for 15 hits and an easy 6-4 decision while DeBong held the invaders to only four hits.

Pirates Top Bees.
And the amazing A's knocked off the Tigers, 8 to 5, when Lodigiani socked one with the bases loaded. That wallop also resulted in Vernon Kennedy losing his first game after winning nine straight.

There were only two games in the National. The Giants put on a three-run spurge in the ninth to beat the Cubs, 8-5, and the Pirates thanks to Mace Brown's great relief pitching, downed the Bees, 5-3.

Manager "Snowy" Siskner has the Slovak Club playing fast ball and they will make a determined bid for the City League crown.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

McKechnie as David Harum . . . when you face a lad who can give and take, well, you simply can't win, at least Scripps and I think so and are going to continue to believe so until our prediction goes topsy-turvy . . .

He let go of Kampouris for Wally Berger . . . we did a little eaves dropping and today formally announce to the sporting world that McKechnie is a David Harum, at least in our book . . . the public has been led to believe that Kamps was swapped man for man . . .

around Zinnatelli, they say Terry needed off maybe $20,000 for the Greek player . . . McKechnie got back almost the price paid for Kamps and at the same time wound up with a slugger who can still break up a ball game and a player who would still sell for something . . . in the after dusk battle with the Phillies, Wednesday, Berger made his first appearance and breezed through with one single out of two visits to the platter . . . if Berger is off, McKechnie will charm him . . .

An odd baseball job . . . major league ball players do all kinds of things off season, but here's a lad who performs an unusually odd job which keeps him close to the diamond pastime 12 months of the year . . . Ted Javor, outfielder for the Grand Forks Chiefs of the Northern League, is the chap . . . he works for a Chicago sporting goods manufacturer in the wintery days . . . his title is "glove mender" . . . players from all over the country send in their favorite mitts for overhauling and to boot, Javor works them over for use during the next season . . . one would be surprised at the number of big time players who will not discard an old glove . . . there is a sort of sentimental attachment to the old mitt, or perhaps, superstition . . .

Still hitting . . . Pete Robertson, former left fielder for the Wampum Crescents, is getting his hits in a musical way instead of on the diamond . . . Pete's hits are yodeling, imitations of all sorts and cracking his fingers in time with music . . .

Market Gives Slight Ground

Most Price Changes Are Small, Profit-Taking Follows Two Day Rise

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, June 10.—The stock market gave ground today on profit taking attracted by yesterday's extensive rise. Most price changes were small, and trading quieted down after a flurry of early activity.

Steel shares were irregular after yesterday's strength. Bethlehem eased while U. S. Steel held around previous closing levels.

Chrysler stock was firm but the rest of the auto list did little. Most aviation shares ground on the announcement of British purchases but North American Aviation and Lockheed recipients of the orders were strong.

Utilities were mostly higher. Rails were inclined to sag. Most of the copper and higher but copper turned irregular.

Chemicals slipped, as did the electrical equipments. Johns Manville was down a point in building shares but later regained part of its loss. Farm implements were firm, and communications edged higher.

Separate bills will be received for the issue of stock in the amount of $100,000.00, maturing on June 1, 1942, at the rate of 4 1/2% per annum, interest payable semi-annually, and said bonds to be payable as follows:

Bonds Nos. 1 to 12 inclusive, payable on August 1, 1939, $10,000.00; Bonds Nos. 13 to 24 inclusive, payable on August 1, 1940, $10,000.00; Bonds Nos. 25 to 36 inclusive, payable on August 1, 1941, $10,000.00; Bonds Nos. 37 to 48 inclusive, payable on August 1, 1942, $10,000.00; Bonds Nos. 49 to 60 inclusive, payable on August 1, 1943, $10,000.00; Bonds Nos. 61 to 72 inclusive, payable on August 1, 1944, $10,000.00; Bonds Nos. 73 to 84 inclusive, payable on August 1, 1945, $10,000.00; Bonds Nos. 85 to 96 inclusive, payable on August 1, 1946, $10,000.00; Bonds Nos. 97 to 108 inclusive, payable on August 1, 1947, $10,000.00; Bonds Nos. 109 to 120 inclusive, payable on August 1, 1948, $10,000.00.

Said bonds may be requested as to price and terms of sale at the office of the City Engineer, New Castle, Pa., or at the office of the City Auditor, New Castle, Pa., on or before the 10th day of June, 1938, at 10 o'clock A. M.

Council Meets Thursday Night

Numerous Routine Matters Are Before Organization For Action

TAX DELINQUENTS MAY BE GIVEN WORK

ELLWOOD CITY, June 10.—Tax and electric light bill delinquents will be able to work out their debt to the borough, result of a decision at the meeting of the city council in the municipal building Thursday night.

The borough is confronted with numerous delinquents and also, has an abundant supply of work that needs to be done.

Council approved the recommendation as the best way to meet both problems.

Some of the work may be of the city's dirt streets. Council has gone on record that it would oil any section of dirt roads in the borough limits if the property owner purchase the oil.

The unpaved western section of Madison avenue, an entrance to Ewing Park, may also be oiled.

Council approved a recommendation providing for the paving of a sidewalk on the eastern part of Summit avenue.

Changes in form of the 1938 budget had to be made on order of the state government. Receipts and expenditures remain the same.

Council moved that Edward F. Sweeney, now employed by the W. P. A. in Ewing Park, be allowed to continue his work after his employment by the W. P. A. is terminated, at salary of $11 an hour, the total not to exceed $75.

The purchase of a pick-up truck for the use of the street commissioner was approved. The cost will be $450.

Council referred a petition from the Matthews Conveyor Company asking for ownership of a short alley section enclosed by its grounds to the proper committee.

A letter from the Ellwood company terminating the contract between the city and the company in regard to supplying castings and paying a share of costs for the storm sewer between Franklin and Summit avenue was turned over to the committee.

The fire committee was given authority to grant the five department use of a fire truck for out of town visits in emergency situations.

The tax collector's exemption list of $1060 for 1937 and $983 for 1936 taxes was referred to the finance committee.

The fire chief's report showed a total of five small fires with a total damage of $10 and salary expenditure of $183.

The health department reported one case of pneumonia, 17 of scarlet fever, one of diphtheria and 16 of measles.

The electric light report showed $11,106 in receipts for the past fiscal period.

Police reported a collection of $113 in fines and penalties, $75 of which were stop sign violations. It was noted that the violations of this sort are increasing.

A petition to install a fire hydrant on the Buzzard property at Second street was referred to the street committee to report back to council.

Announcement was made of the Councilman's convention in Erie soon. A. J. Howell was given power to appoint delegates.

Rotarians Hear Interesting Talk By Dr. Wm. Bunn

Rotary Anns Special Guests At Pleasant Meeting In No. Sewickley Church

ELLWOOD CITY, June 10.—Dr. William Bunn, heart specialist of Youngstown, was the guest speaker at the dinner meeting of the Rotary club, which met in the dining room of the North Sewickley Presbyterian church, with the dinner being served by the women of the congregation.

The Rotary Anns were included in the special privileges of the occasion and added with their presence to the success of the evening. President H. W. Smith was in charge of the meeting. O. J. Kemp suggested to the Rotarians that, if they had work which Boy Scouts could do, it would be a good thing to give the boys an opportunity to earn their way to camp this summer. Dr. and Mrs. Bunn were special guests.

Mr. Smith, however, Dr. Bunn, gave a most informing address on the intelligent pursuit of health. He urged an annual thorough physical examination each year.

The next meeting will be back in the regular place, the dining room of the First Presbyterian church.

Double Wedding Solemnized At Chas. Hazen Home

Mr. and Mrs. Hazen Re-married And Daughter Weds Claire Deemer In Pretty Ceremony

ELLWOOD CITY, June 10.—A unique ceremony took place Thursday at 6 o'clock p. m. in the Hazen home in Fombell when Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hazen were re-married on the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary, which was also the occasion of their daughter, Mary's nuptials with Claire W. Deemer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Deemer, of Zelienople.

Rev. J. R. Routledge of the Providence Baptist church read the marriage service to the younger couple first who were attended by Miss Dorcas Cable, as bridesmaid and by Howard Deemer, brother of the bridegroom, as best man. The bride wore a charming traveling ensemble with a shoulder corsage of talisman roses. Following this service Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hazen went through their marriage vows for the second time. Wedding music was played by Miss Mary Elizabeth Hazen, a relative of the bride couple. The ceremonies took place before an improvised altar of ferns and palms, other home decorations being a lovely arrangement of garden flowers. At the second ceremony the younger bride and bridegroom were the attendants.

Following the wedding service, a reception was held for 34 relatives and friends, and the two wedding tables were centered with traditional wedding cakes and flowers arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Deemer, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Hazen, left on a double post-nuptial tour of the southern states, their itinerary including a visit with E. L. Hazen at Hendersonville, N. C. and Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Deemer is a graduate of the Ellwood High school and before her marriage was a teacher in the Wayne township school. The bridegroom is a graduate of the Zelienople high school. Upon their return they will reside in Fombell.

Supr. J. Ellis Bell brought up the fact that new health laws require 120 minutes per work of health instruction and the local gymnasium is inadequate for such classes, suggesting that a new gymnasium be built at the rear of one of the buildings, or a swimming pool. The matter was referred to the building committee with instructions to report back at a later meeting. The subject of inadequate lighting in the school auditorium was also mentioned in connection with students using it as a study hall also that the addition of three more rooms and a study hall was advisable at this time while federal funds of 45 per cent were available for this purpose. This was also tabled for a later report by the building committee.

Members of the finance committee recommended that the school board assume a share in the paving of Circle street as their payment on back rent in the old city building. This was voted favorably upon by the board.

There was considerable discussion on the practice of defacing school property, particular mention being made of the trees, one of which has had the bark peeled entirely off by local boys. The board went on record as favoring the payment of a $25 reward for the apprehension and subsequent arrest of such marauders.

Final discussion of the meeting centered about the tax receipts and an effort is being made to have tax collections effected in a more systematic manner. The board then adjourned until next week when a special meeting will be called to consider additional matters of importance.

Tax Collector's Bond Is Approved And Fund Depositories Selected

TWO TEACHERS ARE SELECTED

ELLWOOD CITY, June 10.—A feature of the June meeting of the board of education last evening in the Lincoln school building was the board's approval and sanction of the tax collector's bond. In connection with this matter the People's National bank will be used as a depository, also a bank in New Castle.

Fourteen bids on summer coal to be used in the local school system were opened. The bidders were Carey & Young, H. A. Gould, Wardman Coal company, F. M. Kroll company, Mile Hill Coal company, Loma Coal company, Beeder Block Coal company, Norman E. Worley Coal company, Seidel Coal & Supply company, M. L. Elsenan Coal company, D. K. Bauder Coal company and Guy Coal company. Some of the concerns submitted two bids.

Members of the educational committee brought up the matter of filling a vacancy in the teaching staff and of appointing a teacher for a special class. Miss Blanche E. Shirley was appointed as a special teacher and Miss Grace Harrison to fill a vacancy in the West End school. They will receive a minimum salary. The committee also recommended that Paul Winter proceed with two months summer instruction of the high school band. Considerable discussion then centered about the election of a medical inspector. This matter was deferred until the adjourned meeting which is expected to take place next week.

The building committee reported that there is a program of general cleaning and renovating of the local schools, the entire schedule comprising 100 rooms to clean and 28 to paint. Discussion centered about the proposed construction of a new shower room at the rear of the Lincoln building which would be accessible from the athletic field with a cement floor possibly using W. P. A. labor. The approximate cost would be $400.

Supr. J. Ellis Bell brought up the fact that new health laws require 120 minutes per work of health instruction and the local gymnasium is inadequate for such classes, suggesting that a new gymnasium be built at the rear of one of the buildings, or a swimming pool.
